

MAY DAY CELEBRATION

Vegetarian fundraising dinner for the Gateway Green Alliance

As the world plunges into financial chaos and the US tries to pretend that it is not in a depression, the auto industry goes to Washington demanding billions in bailouts.

Politicians insist autoworkers must give up all the union has gained since the 1930s.

Could major problems of unemployment in a down-sized economy be solved with a 30 hour workweek? Why should some people be forced to work exhaustive hours...so their neighbors can be jobless, their kids can suffer toxic poisoning, their grandkids can be fried by global warming, and "the market" can wallow in a cesspool of useless junk?

Celebrate International Workers Day by looking at how labor can join with environmentalists and social justice activists to redesign the economy. Join our discussion...
