Black & Green Wednesday

Local communities increasingly recognize that they must take control of their destiny if they want to promote economic justice. We discuss the utilities rip off and problems with welfare-to-work, and introduce the four pillars of economic justice:

- 1) environmental protection
- 2) worker empowerment
- 3) low income wealth creation
- 4) sustainable economic development

Panelists will include:

- Zaki Baruti, Coalition Against Police Crimes & Repression
- Cecilia Nadal, Productive Futures
- Fredric Raines, Green Party of St. Louis
- Barbara Chicherio, Green Party USA [moderator]
