

Environmental Racism

in the AFTERMATH of

KATRINA

Check out the movement at www.peopleshurricane.org

7 pm, Wednesday
August 1, 2007

Legacy Books & Café
5249 Delmar (near Union)
St. Louis, MO 63108

For more info call 314-3727-8554 or visit www.gateway-greens.org

Close to two years after the terrible Hurricane Katrina, which ravaged New Orleans and Louisiana, hundreds of thousands of families, mostly Black, are still dispersed throughout the four corners of the United States and prohibited from return to their homes.

Of the US$850 million dollars in international aid to the US after Hurricane Katrina in 2005, only $40 million have been used. The distribution of supplies, medications, and services offered were delayed -- if not rejected -- by the federal government.

At the end of August 2007, an independent international tribunal will take place in New Orleans to judge those responsible in the federal and state governments in the United States. The St. Louis program will help raise awareness of the tribunal.

The forum will include:

- MALCOLM SUBER, National Organizer, People's Hurricane Relief Fund
- LIZZ BROWN, Attorney and Award-Winning Talk Show Host
- DON FITZ, Green Party of St. Louis
- ZAKI BARUTI, Universal African Peoples Organization [moderator]

Photo by Tyrone Edwards